The Homburg ICP & Hydrocephalus Workshop

November 23-25, 2016

The intention for the first “Homburg ICP and Hydrocephalus Workshop” is to recapitulate the general understanding of hydrocephalus and to discuss modern therapeutic approaches. One main focus will be on telemetric intracranial pressure monitoring. The long-term application of this technique provides unprecedented insights into the illness and supports important medical decisions. We expect telemetry to become an integral part of neurosurgery in the future.

Our staff and selected international experts welcome you here for intense discussions, hands-on experience and live surgery cases. We are looking forward to the upcoming workshop!
